

Mission

Ambassadors develop self-awareness and gain expertise in the power of temperament so as to serve as role models and mentors for others. They inspire colleagues and students to build more inclusive school cultures in which everyone is recognized for their potential to learn and lead in authentic ways.

Quiet Schools Ambassadors will:

→ Engage in a Personal Journey of Self-Discovery.

Understand how neurobiology shapes temperament – how you communicate, manage energy, make decisions – so as to emerge as your best self.

→ Communicate with Presence and Compassion.

Interact with others in authentic, empathic and non-reactive ways based on a deep understanding of personality differences.

→ Empower Educators and Students to be Leaders.

Challenge common misperceptions about qualities of effective leaders and encourage everyone to harness their natural strengths.

→ Foster Inclusive School Cultures.

Create cultures of kindness by teaching others about the different strengths and needs of introverts and extroverts.

→ Share Best Practices.

Engage in conversations with present and future Ambassadors during and after yearlong training with Quiet Revolution.
